

ff.7<sup>v</sup>-10      `Epistell Dedicatorie' by Abraham Darcie to Helen Evers:
To The Right Prudent and trulie Pious Lady; No lesse Noble then vertuous ... nor no other ambition, but to die To your ladship A most Humble and Obedient seruant Abr[aham] Darcie.

f. 12            `To the Right Lady noble and vertuous' (dedicatory verses):
Choise worke of nature, Grace of WOMANKIND...
Come Farr too Shorte OF your Deseru'd Praises.

ff. 14-60<sup>v</sup>    `A Treatise of the World's Vanity and misery':
The importuning diuersitie of worldly affaires, doth cut our time into a thousand pieces ... Therefore because God is all in all, to him bee honour and glory in this world and in the worlde to come.

Marginalia

f. 4            Remember thy Creator in the days of thy youthe.
(seventeenth century)